What Are We Learning?

Math -

Students have been busy learning how to count money and tell time. Please use every opportunity to practice these important life skills with your child.

Reading –

Children have reading biographies to learn about sequencing events. We also continue to work on reading passages and answering questions.

Writing –

Students have been writing their own nonfiction books about a chosen topic. They are having fun teaching others about topics they are interested in.

How Can I Help My Child Succeed in School?

Consider Math flash cards as a gift for your child and practice the facts with your child.
